ENEMIES QUICKLY PUT AWAY

Former President Madero Taken to Vera Cruz and Banished and His Estates Reported Confiscated—Execution of Madero's Brother Denounced On All Sides—Many Suspects Imprisoned.

Mexico City, Feb. 20.—The new government began by exercising despotic authority and merciless severity. The discovery of a proscribed list among Madero's private papers actuated General Diaz and General Huerta to extreme measures. Gustavo Madero, the president's brother, and the most hated of the Maderistas, was executed in the arsenal after a perfunctory court-martial had condemned him to death as an enemy of the republic.
Marco Fernandez, a brother of the Madero minister of the interior, was shot to death by Huerta's troops for refusing to cheer for the new dictator.
Many were imprisoned. Francisco
Madero will be banished from Vera Cruz today and the estates of himself and family will be confiscated by the government.

The coup d'etat which so suddenly shattered Madero's authority was as dramatic an event as can be found in the annals of the Mexican republic.
It appears that General Diaz was not consulted in the preliminary acts of the intra-government revolt, and that Huerta and Blanquet, having overpowered the Maderos and extinguished their influence, daringly called upon Felix Diaz to make good his assertion that he would end the revolt
after Madero and the Madero cabinet had been deposed. That there was a liberal use of money nobody doubts, and it is confidently asserted that General Diaz agreed to support the coup d'etat only after General Huerta and General Blanquet had promised him their support for the permanent presidency.

Blanquet, the soldier of fortune,
was Francisco Madero's evil genius.
Huerta, the general always to the de-factor government, deserted the cause of Madero only after Blanquet's troops had completed the overthrow of the government.

One of the first political acts of the successful mutineers was the sending of a messenger to Henry Lane Wilson, the American ambassador, with the news of the overthrow of the government and a request that the ambassador mediate with General Diaz.
Mr. Wilson had an interview with General Huerta and consented to act as mediator. Huerta offered to Diaz his support if Diaz should decide to be a candidate for president at the regular election, provided Diaz would consent to recognize him as the temporary head of the government and cease fighting.

Bands of armed men roamed the streets calling upon citizens to cheer for Huerta or for Diaz. Those who refused were beaten until they were cowed into submission.

fael Fernandez, who had been the

FACES GRAFT INDICTMENTS

District Attorney Whitman Will Not Consent to Any Proposal Involving Immunity For the New York Policeman—Court Rules He Must Make Definite Plea When He Is Arraigned Next Monday.

New York, Feb. 20.—Definite information was obtained corroborating the reports current for some days that Inspector Dennis Sweeney, under indictment for grafting, had begun negotiations looking toward co-operation with the district attorney in the latter's investigation of police graft.
The negotiations, which are being conducted with extreme secrecy on all sides so far, have not resulted in any agreement as to conditions. It is the understanding that District Attorney Whitman, if he consents to enter upon any treaty at all with the accused inspector, will insist upon very severe conditions, and even then will not consent to any proposal involving immunity.

The inspector appeared for pleading before Justice Goff in the supreme court. His counsel, Alfred J. Talley, asked the permission of the court to enter a plea of not guilty for his client, with leave to withdraw the plea and plead anew later on. Justice Goff declined to accept such a conditional plea and put over the date for pleading to next Monday, when he said he would insist on a definite plea.

This request for permission to enter a conditional plea strengthened the rumors that the inspector was considering becoming a state's witness as a possibility, and later information gave definite corroboration to the reports.

It was said that one reason for the request made by Sweeney to be allowed to put in a conditional plea was the conflict between personal friends of the inspector, who are urging him to save himself and not to permit himself to be made a scapegoat, and various political interests who are urging the inspector to stand his ground and say nothing.

unlucky day for the Burnes."

Nation-wide Conference of the Republican Party To Be Held.

Washington, Feb. 20.—There is little doubt now that a nation-wide conference of the Republican party will be called within a few months. Since Republicans of national prominence have been in Washington and have discussed the proposed conference with leaders in congress it is expected that a statement will be issued before long, authoritatively explaining the purposes of the proposed conference. It has been suggested that the national Republican committee be convened shortly after the inauguration of the new Democratic administration, but that the general conference be postponed until fall.

Ban On Strikers.

Akron, O., Feb. 20.—After a long gates of the rubber factories also is forbidden.

CONFESSING himself to be a bomb slayer and then repudiating his confession, John Paul Farrell, an ex-convict, was held without bail recently in New York city, charged with blowing up Mrs. Madeline Herrera, wife of the superintendent of an apartment house where he was assistant janitor. He admitted, then denied, that he also blew up Mrs. Grace Walker in New York a year ago and sent a bomb to Judge Otto Rosalaky.
The police found his workshop in the apartment house a veritable death factory, as shown in the illustration. It was a conglomeration of springs, boxes, wheels, bottles, lead pipe, dishes, boards, old iron, nails, screws and whatnot.

Southampton, Feb. 20.—Before sailing for the United States, Dr.
Friedmann, the discoverer of the tuberculosis serum, told the re-

America in order to make his cure more widely known. He was confident, he said, that he would receive fair play from the American people. On his arrival in New York he proposed to give demonstrations of his treatment to which he would invite physicians. The doctor said he hoped to be able to bring his discovery within the reach of every sufferer. He had treated scores of German cases with astounding success, particularly tuberculosis of the bones.

New York, Feb. 20.—Chief of Police tended to fight with all his heart the charges that have been recently made against him by the mayor of Cleveland. He said the attacks were "malicious and cowardly" and that his enemies had nothing against his official qualifications. In regard to the attacks on his personal life, Chief Koehler said they were based chiefly on anonymous communications. Both attacks, he said, could not be prompted by anybody desirous of improving the police conditions in Cleveland.

Insurrecto Leaders.

Mexico City, Feb. 20.—As the first of a series of reprisals which it is feared have been planned by Felix Diaz, Gustavo Madero, the backbone of the fallen administration of his brother, was yesterday subjected to the "fugitive law" and shot to death by his guards in the arsenal.

It is understood that the summary execution was witnessed by Francisco Madero, who, with Gustavo and the other Federal prisoners, were removed from the National Palace to the arsenal early this morning.

That others of the prisoners may suffer a fate similar to that of Gustavo Madero is the general belief here.

The rebels, however, have arranged to ship Francisco Madero, the deposed president, out of the city, en route to Vera Cruz, where he may take ship for some European port just as did Porfirio Diaz, whose downfall he brought about.

Exile was determined upon as the most convenient method of disposing of the former president.

Among the documents of Madero's government found in the National Palace was a list of names of prominent men who had been inimical to Madero, written under the heading of: "Those who ought to die."

Execution Is Sensational.

According to one report a life for every man thus marked for death may be the demand of Felix Diaz.

The execution of Gustavo Madero,
the "most hated man in Mexico," formed one of the most sensational events of the revolt.

Under the convenient Mexican "ley del fuego," or law of flight, a prisoner under guard can be shot down the first time he turns his back to the guard, that act being construed under the law as "attempted flight."

Madero is reported to have recalled the possible fatal import of turning his back to the guard just as the members of the guard raised their guns to their shoulders to fire. He cried out hysterically and started to beg for mercy when a spitting volley from twenty rifles cut short his cries and he fell to the floor dead.

Madero will be accompanied by his wife and perhaps by his father and other members of his family.

His loyal aid, Captain Federico Montes, also will go, but in the capacity of a guard. The party will proceed to Vera Cruz under escort.

Harper Station Well Is Five-barrel One

Oil Well Owned By Herod's Creek Oil and Gas Company In Which a Number of Local Men Are Interested, Shows Steady Flow of Five Barrels Daily, and Other Wells Will Probably Be Drilled Within a Short Time.

The oil well drilled two years ago by the Herod's Creek Oil & Gas Co., at Harper's Station just over the line in Ross county, is producing five barrels of oil per day, and it is the general opinion that the owners have a good proposition on hands.

Monday of this week the work of cleaning out the well was completed, and the flow of the well established. The latest turn of affairs in connection with the well, is told in part by the Chillicothe Advertiser, which says:

"The Herod's Creek Oil Company secured an order from the Common Pleas court to clear it out. It will be remembered that it was put down more than a year ago, and was then abandoned because the company was out of money. In December the drillers were brought back, but Wilbur P. Harper on whose land the well is, tried to stop the company in court on the grounds that the lease had lapsed.

"After Judge Goldsberry decided that the Herod's Creek Company still owned the well, the drillers again went to work, and by Monday had oil flowing from the well. The first day's output was five barrels and the second day didn't quite reach that amount. The oil is of a quality that will sell for $1.42 a barrel.

"Mr. Kessling, one of the drillers who cleaned the well, was in town recently and he said that oil was being produced at 1840 feet. The well is in reality 1930 feet deep, but at that point a heavy flow of water was found, and the work abandoned. The oil now coming from the well is in the Trenton rock and this generally means a flow that will be good for years.

"From what can be learned of the matter, it appears that the Herod's Creek Oil Company can sell out its lease and wells for an excellent price now that it has demonstrated that there is oil in that section. The new company would be willing to put down a half dozen or more wells at once because oil is very scarce and the price high.

"It has been stated that wells can be put down in Bucksakin for not to exceed $3500, and when five barrel wells have been produced and flow a few years, they soon pay for themselves. The people interested in the field are said to think pretty well of it."

Dayton Barbers Raise the Price

Dayton tonsorial artists have raised the price of shaves from 10c to 15c, neck shave being "thrown in" under the new schedule of prices.

The man who secures a "face scrape" and does not wish the neck shave, will be charged the same as the man who does have the additional neck shave. This court case, or in other words the matter of the law is a national matter. Who drops into the barber's chair must pay for the neck shave whether he gets it or not.

The annual triangular debate between the High schools of Chillicothe, Circleville and this city, will be held the 11th of April. The negative team of the local High school goes to Circleville and the affirmative remains at home to debate with Chillicothe.

The debate was to have taken place earlier but owing to the congested condition of our schools and the attendant handicaps in the students' work it was necessary to postpone it a fortnight.

Object To Bond Issue

Baltimore, Md., Feb. 19.—Counsel for the Maryland Public Service Commission have petitioned the Circuit Court of Baltimore for an injunction restraining the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad Company from issuing $63,250,000 of bonds without first obtaining the commissioner's permission.

The purpose of the action is to test the exemption of the Baltimore and Ohio from taxation in this state.

The railroad company holds that under its charter, granted prior to the establishment of the Public Service Commission, it does not have to obtain such consent.

WOMAN ON TRIAL FOR KILLING 1,012

Russian Ogress Charged With Wholesale Poisoning.

St. Petersburg.—The most colossal murder trial in the annals of history will begin at Archangel next month, when a woman "philanthropist," Mme. Kusnezowa, will be placed in the dock charged with murdering 1,012 children by poison.

The ogress—as such she is termed here—kept a baby farm outside the town, where illegitimate children were adopted for $25 and upward. Special prices were made for aristocratic mothers.

The fact that ever since the place was opened five years ago the death rate among the infants had been tragically high (320 died in the year 1909) did not attract attention, as child mortality in this icy northern region is normally high. Eventually, however, the police began to make inquiries. After exhuming a score of bodies in the cemetery adjoining the home they arrested the woman.

A remarkable feature of this wholesale massacre of innocents is that proper death certificates were given in each instance. Several of the children, of course, had died of natural causes, but the vast majority were found to have been poisoned. At one period there were 450 children in the home.

Search is being made for the doctor, while several of Mme. Kusnezowa's staff are under suspicion. The trial, in which the greatest interest is being taken, is expected to last several months, as each case will be taken more or less separately, and the evidence of over 800 mothers will be heard.

CLUB NEWS

The February meeting of the Woman's Missionary Society of the Presbyterian church, with its subjects of the American Indian and Korea, was one of much interest at the home of Mrs. George Jackson Wednesday afternoon. The assisting hostesses were Mesdames Frank Jackson, Dennis, Ustick, Chas. Reid, J. W. Rothrock, H. H. Brown, Gregg, Deheart, Brady, Hays and Miss Patton.

Over seventy women were in attendance, one of the largest meetings of the year.

As it was the last meeting of the year considerable business was transacted. Mrs. Tom S. Pinkerton, who has served most efficiently as treasurer for the past eleven years, presented her resignation owing to the recent removal of the Pinkertons to Bloomingburg. Mrs. M. E. Hitchcock was elected to fill her place.

The pledged work for the year was discussed and full returns urged. This work is in China, India, South America, in the Training School of Alaska, Utah and Freedman's work in Texas and Mississippi.

Mrs. N. B. Hall, literary secretary, presented good reports for magazines.

A fine paper original in its treatment on "Present Status of the Indian and His Progress Toward Development," was given by Mrs. J. H. Williams. Miss Dora Eggleston gave an interesting number, "The Story of Christian Missions in Korea."

A piano duet by Misses Ruth Reid, Gretchen Willis and Edith Worthington was much enjoyed and dainty refreshments served during the social hour.

Mrs. Schenck, of Springfield, visiting her sister, Mrs. W. B. Hershey, was an out-of-town guest.

Magazine Graft Hit Springfield

The well known magazine graft, whereby a fake representative of certain magazines takes subscriptions at a ridiculously low price and then pockets the money, has been worked in Springfield, and a great many persons have lost various sums.

May Condemn Engine House

Deputy state fire marshals have visited Xenia and have announced that it may be necessary to condemn the engine house at that place, and if this is done the extra expense of erecting a new building will be added to the already heavy burden of Xenia.

An order will be issued against the department building soon, and it will then be known what will be necessary to take care of the problem.

"The Passion Play and Players" will be the theme of Rev. P. J. Hennessey at East End chapel Sunday evening at 7 o'clock. You are invited.

BENT BACK THE RULE.

Where Sauce For the Goose Was Not Sauce For the Gander.

In the early days of a certain club of New York, when it was rather harder sledding for the club than it is at the present time, in a meeting of the council the question came up as to the arrears of members' dues, and the treasurer reported that one man was particularly recalcitrant in this regard. It was in the winter, and the club was then maintaining throughout the day and evening beautifully heated and lighted quarters. At this time the only person in the club who frequented it every day was this delinquent, who, in addition to doing a large portion of his writing there, was accustomed to make considerable inroads upon the stationery of the club for home consumption.

At the meeting of the council referred to there was protest against this state of affairs, and a determination was manifest to put an end to it, and after discussion the secretary was instructed to notify the member in question that his name had been dropped from the rolls of the club.

The question then arose whether there was anybody else who was in arrears, whereupon the treasurer reported that this was true of another member.

"Who can that be? Let us make an example of them both," remarked one member, bringing his fist down on the table for emphasis. The reply was that it was Mr. X., the poet.

"Oh, heavens!" replied another. "We can't let X. go. He's too important to the club."

Whereupon the resolution was then amended to read as follows: "Resolved, that the secretary be instructed to drop the name of Mr. Q. from the rolls of the club for nonpayment of dues and to retain the name of Mr. X. for the same reason."—Century.

TO STOP HUMPBACK GROWTH.

Albee Operation Successfully Performed in New England.

Salem, Mass.—Dr. Harvey F. Newhall of Lynn at the Salem hospital performed what is known as the "Albee operation" for prevention of humpback from tuberculosis of the spine.

The operation consists in grafting a piece of bone into the spine so the formation of a spinous "knuckle," which causes humpback, will be avoided.

This operation was first performed by Dr. Albee of New York, but has been performed in New England only once previous to the present case.

In the operation the spinous processes of the vertebrae above and below

Painfully Injured In Rural Mail Wagon

Roy Thompson, son of rural mail carrier Lon Thompson of Route No. 7, was very painfully injured early Thursday morning when the fifth wheel of the mail wagon broke and he was hurled with great violence into the glass front of the wagon.

The accident occurred in the alley near the Baptist church while he was on his way up town with the wagon. When the coupling bolt broke it threw the front part of the wagon downward, and Thompson's head was thrust through the glass, the keen slivers penetrating the scalp in a number of places and inflicting wounds from which the blood poured in streams, running down his face and saturating his clothing.

Passersby stopped the horse and prevented a more serious accident, while Thompson hurried to the Fayette hospital where it required considerable time to remove the numerous particles of glass and dress the ugly wounds.

It will be recalled that some two years ago the Thompson mail wagon was struck by a Pennsylvania train at the North street crossing, and completely destroyed, young Thompson escaping serious injury. Thompson is substitute carrier on Route No. 7.

The Move for a Weekly Half Holiday

Once more the movement for a half holiday once each week for the business men, the professional men and the clerks and laboring men of Washington during the hot summer season, is beginning to take form.

Several times before this movement has been started but that is about as far as it ever progressed. Just as soon as it was fairly under way it stopped.

Why?

Well, no matter why it stopped, the question is how can it be kept up until success crowns the efforts of those who are now trying to get the movement well under way with such an impetus that it will crush all opposition and roll on to an end anticipated with real pleasure for some time.

There is scarcely a city in all this broad land which does not keep a week day half holiday during the heated term. The custom is firmly fixed.

In nearly every one of the large cities Saturday is the day on which each week the half holiday is given and the weary working men turned out to enjoy themselves and get a breath of air.

Of course in this city Saturday is out of the question. Washington has always been, is now, and promises to be for a long time in the future a Saturday town.

The rural folk furnish the bulk of the trade to Washington and Saturday is their chore day in the county seat. That custom is firmly fixed and it really is a necessary one in a community like this, it seems.

There seems to be absolutely no good reason to be urged against a half of some other day each week being set apart as a half holiday. Men will return to their tasks with added strength and enthusiasm after a half day in the woods and fields, along the creek banks with red and line, at the baseball game, the matinee races on the fair ground track, with their families at home working in the gardens and flower beds, on a picnic with friends and neighbors or in many other ways in which the busy working man—and we are all of us in that class—may find wholesome amusement, mental and physical rest and relaxation, which make better and brighter the human machine bound to wear in its bearings and get loose and rickety unless run in a new groove once in a while.

The half holiday once each week is a good move. It sounds good and it is good. A big dividend payer to employer and employee.

OUR RICH MEN AS A CLASS ARE NOT OUR BEST CITIZENS. NO MAN, HOWEVER HUMBLE HIS STATUS OR SMALL HIS MEANS, CAN JUSTLY PLEAD INABILITY OF SERVICE TO HIS FELLOW MEN AND TO THE PUBLIC AT LARGE.

It is because the personal work for social and political betterment is done largely by men who are SHORT OF TIME AND NOT LONG OF PURSE that I am led to make a comparison which is not flattering to the wealthy as a class.

I am not undertaking to belittle the accomplishments of men of wealth through the investment or the expenditure of their money. The material prosperity of our country is DUE IN PART TO THE MEN WHO BUILD AND BEAUTIFY CITIES, WHO PROJECT AND FINANCE RAILROADS, WHO FURNISH MONEY THAT MAKES THE WHEELS GO ROUND.

I am not calling in question the great good which results from the large gifts of rich men to colleges, libraries, hospitals and kindred institutions. These gifts HELP TO DEVELOP CHARACTER, TO RELIEVE SUFFERING and to broaden the field of humanity. They are the mediums employed by the wealthy for distributing a portion of the results of their own efforts for success in making of money.

If this distribution is in the spirit of UNSELFISHNESS it becomes one of the evidences of GOOD CITIZENSHIP, but even then it is not the equivalent of that direct personal endeavor which makes BETTER CITIZENS—not only of the workers, but of all those with whom they come in contact.

There has been never before so great an opportunity presented to the people of this country, especially to the younger men, for development of GOOD CITIZENSHIP. During the last half century our people have gone at breakneck speed in the direction of what we are all pleased to call prosperity and its evidences.

KIPPERED KIELING.

"What makes you work so hard, so hard?" said Diaz-on-Parade.

"We always take an hour for noon," the Maderistas said.

"You're fighting fifteen hours a day!" said Diaz-on-Parade.

"And you begin at 5 o'clock!" the Maderistas said.

"You criticize Madero for the working hours we keep; You say your men are fighting till they're falling in a heap. But you, upon the other hand, don't give us any sleep. For you always start too early in the morning."

"Why can't we compromise the thing?" said Diaz-on-Parade.

"The very thing, the very thing?" the Maderistas said.

"From 8 to 12 and 2 to 6," said Diaz-on-Parade.

"That's quite agreeable to us," the Maderistas said.

"We'll all have time for dinner, and continue at our best; The boys won't look so tired and so terribly distressed. We'll do our eight hours daily, and the night shall be of rest, And we won't begin so early in the morning."

"Why should we work ourselves to death?" said Diaz-on-Parade.

"You started it, you started it!" the Maderistas said.

"Why can't we all be Mexicans?" said Diaz-on-Parade.

"We can, if you agree to it," the Maderistas said.

"We can take it nice and easy, with siestas now and then; The plan will please the country, and work will please the men; And we won't begin so early in the morning."

EMPIRE OPERA HOUSE.

The most interesting plays produced in recent years are those which have been made from popular novels. One became interested in reading a book and the characters at times seem as living, breathing friends. It is, therefore, easy to understand how, after having followed the advantages of a popular hero or heroine of fiction and having been taken into the confidence of these personages that one should have a desire to meet them, as it were, face to face. It is the one form of familiarity that does not breed contempt, and in renewing the acquaintances of old friends made over from cold type into flesh and blood, one feels a satisfaction not easily described. It is something akin to a psychological phenomenon.

It is perhaps not too much to say that George Barr McCutcheon's story, "Brewster's Millions" has had as many, if not more, readers than any American work of fiction recently published. It is, therefore, natural that the combined armies of fiction readers and theater-goers will look forward to the appearance of Walter Allen in Frederick Thompson's superb production of this celebrated story at the Empire Opera House.

Within the bounds of probability Mr. McCutcheon's story has an intensely fantastic scheme. It turns the mad chase for dollars topsyturvy and disposes entirely of the almost universal belief that money is essential to either happiness or contentment. Frederick Thompson's name as sponsor for the dramatic presentation of "Brewster's Millions" is sufficient warrant for public confidence in the excellence of the company and the completeness of the pictorial surroundings, and from present indications the demand is entirely commensurate with the merits of the attraction and the high standard of its producer. The Cincinnati Automobile Show

There be exceeding pleasure in recording the untiring brilliant activities of the decorating committees of the Cincinnati Automobile Dealers' Association in behalf of its third annual motor car show, which opens in north wing of Music Hall, February 24th.

Months back a comprehensive, elaborate plan was initiated, aiming at an exhibit that leaves nothing to chance and presents the very best that can be offered in the way of variety and high excellence.

Managing head has been and is Henry S. Leyman, President of the Association.

First attention was bestowed to the matter of decorations, a contract being entered into for large expenditure of money, together with plans most pleasing in detail and ensemble. Entertainment has been provided through presence of Cincinnati's "pride" band, that conducted by John C. Weber, master of programs that make appeal to the widest range of listeners.

The very latest and most advanced models of motor car construction have been obtained, not only such as are daily seen in the Queen City, but notably those special ones that have formed distinctive features at the National Shows in New York, Chicago and elsewhere on the ten-city circuit established by the Association of Automobile Manufacturers.

Difference In Weight of Hogs

Mr. J. W. Faulkner, the stock dealer has a clipping from a newspaper published in this county in 1874, which gives a record of the weight of a lot of 5,500 hogs butchered by the Xenia firm of Thorne, McMillan & Co., according to the Xenia Gazette. In those days hogs were not sold as young as they are now and for that reason there is a very marked difference in the weight of butcher hogs sold then and those sold now. The entire lot of 5,500 hogs purchased in 1874 by Thorne McMillan & Co. averaged 314 1-2 pounds. Now there is a market for butcher hogs the year around and as a result they are sold when 8 or 10 month old, at an average weight of not more than 250 pounds.

In the lot of 5,500 hogs received by the Xenia company the old clipping shows that some of small lots, which composed the whole, averaged as high as 570 pounds.

The same clipping tells about a bunch of 20 hogs raised by William Huffman, in Adams township, Clinton county which weighed an average of 666 pounds when they were sold at the age of 20 months.

MINIMUM WAGE BILL LAUNCHED

Creates Commission to Fix Pay
For Women and Minors.

GOVERNOR TO NAME THE BOARD

Will Consist of Three Members, One of Whom May Be a Woman—Lunacy Commission Measure Passed by Senate—Road Construction Contracts and Bond Issues To Be Made Valid.

Columbus, O., Feb. 20.—Representative Chapman of Montgomery county obtained special permission to introduce a bill providing for the establishment of a minimum wage commission, the chief duties of which will be to determine minimum wages for women and children.

The measure stipulates that the commission, which is to consist of three members, one of whom may be a woman, is to be appointed by governor, and for their services each is to receive $10 a day and expenses. The commission will name its secretary, who is to act as executive officer.

Duties of the commission are prescribed in the bill, which provides for an inquiry into wages paid to female and minor employees, with the object of ascertaining whether the financial income from their toil is sufficient to provide them with the necessities of life. If wages are inadequate, the commission will establish wage boards, comprised of representatives of employers and employees and disinterested citizens, to make inquiries and report to the commission, which would establish the minimum wage. Employers are prohibited under heavy penalty from discriminating against any employee who might be called to testify before the boards or commission.

The senate passed the Wieser bill, validating all contracts and bond issues for road construction under the Garret law, which was repealed by implication by the last legislature when it passed the Braun measure. The supreme court annulled the Garret law in deciding a case from Morrow county last fall. Senator Wieser said the supreme court's decision had invalidated contracts for thousands of dollars in more than 25 counties in the state.

The senate also passed the Mooney bill, creating the state board of administration a lunacy commission, with power to release or transfer insane prisoners confined in the state institutions.

After scrapping for several weeks over the bill proposed by Senator Cook of Hamilton county for the creation of a state live stock commission with powers to examine all cattle, administer treatment and to kill diseased ones, the senate committee on sanitary laws voted to send the measure back to the senate without recommendations. The measure promises to precipitate a hot fight.

The judiciary committee of the senate amended the Morris bill, providing $3 a day pay for jurors and 2-cent mileage by decreasing the amount per day to $2.50 and restoring the old mileage of 5 cents one way while they are serving as jurymen. The present compensation is $2 a day. Senator Zmunt's resolution, asking for a constitutional amendment to provide for an additional juror in case a regular juror may become ill or die, was adopted by the senate.

Wrestling a revolver from one, Captain Byrns exchanged shots with the other until fatally wounded in the head. Mrs. Byrns witnessed the battle. Kinney was arrested in Chicago.

London Water Works Company Willing Now To Contract

After Long Delay Company Which Owns Local Water Works Is Ready to Get Busy--London Not Sure That It Wants to Accept Proposal.

After a year or two of wrangling between the London Water Company which is controlled by the same persons as the local water plant, the company has expressed a willingness to renew the contract with the town, providing the sum of $2,000 is paid for services rendered during the past two years.

However, the town is not sure that a renewal of the contract with the payment of $2,000 is desirable, and the council, which has long talked municipal ownership of the water plant, seems not inclined to jump at the opportunity of renewing the contract for another term of years.

Speaking of the affair the London Democrat says in part:

Mr. Murray, attorney for the London Water Works Company, was present at council meeting and in a general talk went over the water situation.

He assured the members present that Mr. Myers, the general president of the company, is ready to accept the contract provided for in the ordinance passed at the preceding meeting of council, providing some arrangement can be made toward paying for the services rendered the city during the past two years, which he estimated loosely at somewhere near $1000 per year.

If Mr. Murray is acquainted with the intentions of the company about appointing a consulting engineer to assist in appraising the plant, he failed to inform council; but in the light of his information to the members it is made apparent that there isn't much left to appraise.

The $2000 to be paid to the company for their services to the city for the past two years, he asserts, added to what the company has on hand, will be used in assisting to put up a new building, in the purchase of two new boilers, supplying a new compressor, and other needful supplies. Coming to the question of the bonded indebtedness of the company, Mr. Murray informed council that of the original $140,000 bonds floated by the company, $110,000 are held by Mrs. Huntington, of Los Angeles, and $30,000 by other parties. This being the case it looks like Mrs. Huntington will be left to hold the bag unless the city council buys the plant and takes the load on their own shoulders. Unless the company can be declared insolvent and a possible purchaser be free from the bonds now weighing it down, it commences to look as though the city need not worry further about either the appointment of an appraiser of the plant or making any further effort to purchase. The only alternative seems to be the purchase of the bonds at a figure equalizing the present price of the plant.

STOP CRUELTY IN RUBBER REGIONS

President of Peru Promises to Stamp Out Peonage.

WILL ARREST MURDERERS.

Minister Pezet Gives Assurance of Reforms on Same Day That President Taft Sends Message to Congress. Based on Report Made by Stuart J. Fuller, Special Investigator.

Washington.—At the same time that President Taft's message on the Putumayo atrocities in Peru was being read in congress Federico Pezet, the Peruvian minister to the United States, presented to the secretary of state a communication from his government announcing the strict policy of Peru's new executive, President Billinghurst, to stamp out peonage in the rubber regions and bring the murderers of Indian slaves to justice.

Two years ago the British government sent Sir Roger Casement to investigate the reported outrages on the Indians, with the result that the world was informed of a series of wholesale murders and a condition of barbarism unparalleled by any similar history of human greed.

Last April the United States government ordered Stuart J. Fuller, consul at Goteborg, Norway, to go to Iquitos, Peru, as consul, and to investigate the operations of the Peruvian Amazon company in the Putumayo region. Mr. Fuller's report was the basis of the president's message sent to congress.

The report confirms in the main the appalling accounts given by Sir Roger Casement, but states that the American investigator found that many of the white witnesses from Barbados had been sent out of the country, that the rubber company was apparently conducting its business in a more humane way and that wherever Mr. Fuller went he was dogged by agents of the company and prevented from securing evidence. The agents of the company were afraid to tell anything lest they should incriminate themselves or their comrades, and the Indians were sufficiently terrorized to keep them from telling anything comparable to the accounts secured by Sir Roger Casement.

Mr. Fuller got evidence that one firm brought 200 men from Barbados to serve them in the upper waters of the Amazon, on the Carapana and Middle Igarapana rivers, in the Putumayo rubber region. These white men were armed with Winchesters and were set at the task of enslaving Indians and compelling them to gather rubber. The Indians were an unresisting people and fell easy prey to the white men. They were forced to submit to flogging, imprisonment in stocks in the hot sun without food for days, by threats of shooting and by the sight of their kin being shot.

The white men seized the wives of the Indians, and some of the overseers maintained large harems of Indian women. Old men who were so weak they could not gather rubber were hung up by the thumbs.

The statement presented by Minister Pezet represents that President Billinghurst has followed the investigations of Great Britain and the United States and has decided to put a stop to the outrages. He has sent army officers to arrest the men guilty of murder, and where they have fled the country he intends to demand their extradition.

President Billinghurst has decided to erect at Iquitos a bishopric and five mission stations at different points to look after the spiritual needs of the Indians and give them instruction. Army officers have been placed in charge of the administration of the government region, and it is confidently believed that the means employed will be effective to prevent any further outrages.

The communication concludes by saying:

"This indignation is not alone because these events have occurred in our territory, but on account of the harm which they have done to Peru by giving us an undeserved notoriety for deep rooted cruelty, which is not a trait of our national character."

CAR VENTILATION.

While the demand for fresh air and plenty of it is greater than it used to be, persons who are compelled to travel in the winter time know that car and train ventilation seems to be worse than it ever was.

One would naturally suppose that more attention ought to be given to the air supply than in former days. Such is not the case and the observant traveler is prone to wonder why it is so. Traction cars, and railway trains seem to be guarded by vigilant conductors with a view to keeping out every breath of outdoor air, while street car conductors are sometimes almost savage in their devotion to a misconception of duty.

Long vestibuled trains are the worst offenders. The carefulness of the trainmen to see that only one or two doors are opened at each stop precludes the possibility of any ventilation from that source. The result is that the incoming passengers are assailed by a sickening stench, composed of various ingredients—fetid breath from the crowd, hot, heavy air from dirty steam pipes and malodorous disinfectant, which is used with prodigality, in the apparent hope of overcoming some of the evils within the cars. It is a poor substitute for fresh air.

Traction cars in most instances are much better. The frequent opening of doors and the more imperfect window construction helps to let in some of the dreaded fresh air, in spite of the vigilant conductor. On some of the limited cars, however, mechanical genius is coming to the aid of the enemies of ventilation. Double windows, similar to those on the newer steam road coaches, have been put in, screwed down to prevent the possibility of a rebellious passenger opening them under any pretext.

Street cars present quite the same problem. Their construction is mystifying, in that they seem to defy absolutely the more frequent opening of doors. In the older type of cars, where passengers enter and leave through the rear doors, conditions are worse. The pay-as-you-enter has a health advantage in that their operation compels the opening of both rear and front doors and there must necessarily be some admission of outside air.

It is unnecessary in this day of enlightenment to dilate upon the danger attending this condition. Health authorities have been active in telling the people of the menace of foul, germ-laden air. The question pressing for solution is, how can the situation be remedied?

Improvement in methods of ventilation is the need of the day. Such devices have not received the attention of inventors as they should. The admission of fresh air is accompanied by drafts which people have not yet learned to like. The moment a window or door is open, an oversensitive person will cry to high heaven for relief.

The remedy may only be suggested in general terms. With the enlightenment which most people have, there should be a general and vigorous demand for better ventilation. It is a known fact that, ultimately, public service corporations, like every other business enterprise, must give the people what they want. With this as a starting point, let everybody make known their dissatisfaction with present conditions and demand something better.—Dayton News.

Aged Man Falls Dead

Sansom T. Miller, aged 62 years, dropped dead at Jamestown Wednesday, while at his work at the pumping station of the C. H. & D. at that point.

Mr. Miller made his home in Mill-edgeville for some 30 years, and has had charge of the pumping station at Jamestown for many years. Wednesday morning he went to his work as usual, and had just picked up a shovel when passersby saw him suddenly fall in a heap, and when they reached him the spark of life had flown.

Funeral services will not be held until sons from Illinois reach home. The deceased was an uncle of Sheriff Oliver Nelson and Deputy Sheriff Andy Nelson. He was a brother to J. L. Miller, who lives on the Charles Gray farm near Jeffersonville; William Miller who owns a farm adjoining the Glascock farm in Paint township, and John Miller near Waterloo.

Death Separates After Fifty Years Of Married Life

As the shades of Wednesday evening fell the angel of death swung his scythe over the home of Mr. Henry Snyder on South Main street, garnering the frail spirit of the devoted wife and mother and separating husband and wife just as they were on the threshold of their golden wedding anniversary.

Particularly sad seems this death, which frustrated in its suddenness cherished plans of the approaching fiftieth wedding day on the 11th of March, and leaves the husband in the throes of a critical illness, without the consolation of his helpmate.

Mr. Snyder has been seriously ill for the past year, and his condition has been precarious for some months, but the death of Mrs. Snyder comes to her home and family with the shock of the unexpected and the sympathy of the community and many friends in the county goes out to them sincerely.

Mrs. Snyder was taken ill Sunday with the gripe. Pneumonia followed within a few hours and the frail body was too spent in the constant nursing and anxiety of the past year to rally. At the time of her passing Mr. Snyder was too ill to be told the sad news and his present condition causes gravest anxiety.

Mrs. Snyder leaves one daughter, Mrs. V. P. Smith, to take care of her father, while he lingers. Two daughters and one son are dead.

Mrs. Snyder was 68 years of age and belonged to a well known Ross county family, being the daughter of Mr. Chas. Briggs. Her sister, Mrs. George Santee, mother of Mrs. Will Hettesheimer, died in Frankfort, 4 months ago. Ever since her marriage her home has been in Fayette county.

The remains were brought to the home of the daughter, Mrs. Smith, early Thursday morning. Funeral services will be held Saturday, 2 p. m., at Grace M. E. church.

Later in the day Mr. Snyder seemed a little easier and was carried out to the ambulance and also taken to Dr. Smith's where he will remain.

Jury Disagrees Stood 5 to 7

After considering the evidence in the case of Sadie Taylor against Anne Morgan from four o'clock Tuesday until about the same hour Wednesday afternoon, the jury disagreed and was dismissed from further consideration of the case.

It is said that the jury stood 5 to 7 with two of the members changing their vote frequently, so that part of the time the 5 to 7 was for the plaintiff and part of the time for the defendant.

Rankin and Rankin were attorneys for the plaintiff and W. B. Rodgers for the defendant. Motion for a new trial will be filed.

The Evolution of The Modern Store

Did you ever stop to think of the wonderful development of the store of today?

Years ago the store was a place where you traded or entered only when it was necessary. It was not considered necessary or even an advantage to make it a pleasant place for you to come at any time.

Modern storekeepers realize that the arrangement and surroundings of their stores make a great difference to their customers. They know that an attractive display in the windows or in the store impresses not only the woman who intends to buy, but the prospective buyer.

From time to time they add new appointments until today the modern store plays a big part in our daily life.

Read the advertisements in THE HERALD closely and constantly every day and see what the best merchants are doing for your comfort and convenience.

PUJO BAND IS NOT DONE

PLAN TO REGULATE STOCK EXCHANGES

Untermeyer's Scheme May Not Have Plain Sailing.

Washington, Feb. 20.—The Pujol committee had its first meeting to consider the recommendations that it will make to congress. The meeting developed the fact that all will not be plain sailing for the Untermeyer plan to regulate the New York and other stock exchanges through the exercise of the power which the federal government has over the United States mails and the telegraphic service of the country.

In fact the question has come up whether or not the government will be able to accomplish any reforms in this way. The general impression was that the federal government would have great difficulty in prescribing rules and regulations that could be enforced throughout the country. A growing sentiment was evident among members of the committee to leave the regulation of stock exchanges to the various state governments.

THE JAPS SELECT MAN FOR THE CRISIS

YAMAMOTO PREMIER

Political Crisis in Japan Settled and Cabinet Named.

Tokyo, Feb. 20.—The political crisis has been settled by a compromise. The Seiyukai abandoned its demand that all members of the cabinet should be of that party and accepted Baron Yamamoto's proposition to select as members of the ministry all followers of the Seiyukai, except for the premiership and the portfolios of foreign affairs, war and navy. A cabinet was then formed with Yamamoto as premier and Baron Makino, a well-known diplomat, as minister of foreign affairs.

CARTER GOES WEST

Will Prepare Data For Arbitration of Firemen's Demands.

New York, Feb. 20.—President Carter of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Enginemen left the city for his permanent headquarters in Peoria, Ill., to prepare edata for the arbitration of the firemen's grievances under the Erdman act. He will return to this city on behalf of the firemen when called on, and in the meantime will prepare a summary of the arguments used in the recent negotiations with the conference committee of the railroads. He said he did not look on the agreement of the railroads to arbitrate under the Erdman act as a victory for the men except insofar as it provided a legal method of arbitration, which the firemen held out for.

Rebels Refuse to Indorse the Coup

minister of the interior in the Madero cabinet, found himself at the mercy of a band of rurales, who demanded that he join in the cheering for Huerta. Fernandez defiantly refused. The rurales shot him to death with their pistols.

NOTES SHOW TREACHERY

American Government Has No Faith
In General Huerta.

Washington, Feb. 20.—The detailed accounts of the overthrow of Former President Madero of Mexico and the circumstances by which his downfall was accomplished, together with subsequent events in the Mexican capital, served to increase the pessimism felt in Washington when it was learned that General Huerta had been proclaimed provisional president.

The treachery with which the late dispatches from Mexico reeked brought expressions of disgust from all quarters in Washington.

Many in Washington, who have hitherto expressed trust and confidence in Mexico and her people, maintained that the series of betrayals and executions accompanying the downfall of Madero would indict the Mexican people before the world. Many who have hitherto been opposed to intervention in Mexico predicted that the events of the last few days in Mexico City would ultimately prove to have done more to bring intervention nearer than anything else that has occurred.

At the state department, of course, the officials were unwilling to voice such views. It is known, however, that the administration regards the outcome of the Diaz revolt as far from presenting a prospect of better things in Mexico. In official circles, however, the disgust felt at the boastful message received from General Huerta was ill concealed.

General Huerta's message, which was addressed to President Taft, follows: "I have the honor to inform you that I have overthrown this government. The forces are with me and from now on peace and prosperity will reign. Victoriano Huerta, Commander-in-chief."

It is putting it mildly to say that President Taft and his advisers are most skeptical of General Huerta's assurances that "peace and prosperity will reign."

The execution of Gustavo Madero, under barbarous circumstances, was taken here to indicate that further bloodshed is likely to follow. It is feared that those who come into power by a purely military and mercenary stroke will take advantage of their opportunity to revenge themselves upon their enemies. A series of summary executions, such as have often followed revolutions in such republics as Haiti and some of the Central and South American republics, apparently is about to begin.

Francisco Madero Shot?

San Luis Potosi, Feb. 20. — There was much excitement in this city when reports reached here from Mexico City that Francisco I. Madero, the deposed president, had been shot. It was said that several residents of this city received telegrams from Mexico City to that effect.

NAMED PROVISIONAL PRESIDENT OF MEXICO

General Huerta Selected Over Several Candidates.

City of Mexico, Feb. 20.—General Victoriano Huerta was elected provisional president of the Republic of Mexico by a joint session of the senate and congress, early today. For exactly 26 minutes Senor Pedro Lascurain, minister of foreign affairs under the Madero regime, had the honor of serving as head of the government. He naturally succeeded to this office after the joint session had accepted the resignation or deposed Francisco I. Madero as president and Pino Suarez as vice president.

BURGLAR DROPS LOOT

Five-Year-Old Child Calls Maid, Who Gives Alarm.

Greenwich, Conn., Feb. 20.—Five-year-old Marcia Fennessy gave the police such a good description of a burglar who invaded the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Fennessy, that they believe they will soon capture the man. The child was awakened by the man entering the house but lay still and watched him gather jewelry in her mother's room. She then called a maid, who gave the alarm as the man started out the window. The burglar in making his escape dropped nearly all his loot.

Farmers Land a Burglar.

Van Wert O., Feb. 20.—Arthur Clark, 25, claiming Buffalo as his home, was caught by a farmer and his two sons while he was in the act of burglarizing the farmhouse of Charles H. Counheer, two miles northeast of this city. Clark had several purses, gold watches and other jewelry in his possession.
